Dr. James Gemmell

TO THE STUDENTS OF CLARION STATE COLLEGE:

The principal product of a college is learning. The test of your college is what happened to you that would not have happened otherwise. As you "rubbed minds" with students and teachers, was your own mind stretched? If so, you can count your time well spent. And if in the process you were jarred from some preconceived notions, hunches, and prejudices, you should value this dividend indeed. One of the most important things to an undergraduate is the other undergraduates he meets. This is not a matter of meeting the "right people" but rather an enrichment of life through the impact of talented and serious contemporaries on each other.

Looking back to our four short years at Clarion State College, we hesitate before making our final farewell. We fondly recall the various activities and experiences that are so important in the life of a college student: dormitory life, athletic contests, gala dances, fraternity and sorority events, student teaching days, the Student Union, and our assiduous studies.

We are grateful for the capable assistance of Mr. Joseph Spence, our class advisor, who has guided us through the intricate mazes of college life. We also extend our thanks to the class officers who faithfully served us during our college years.

Congratulations are in store for Hannah Evans who was elected Queen of the Homecoming and to her charming attendants from our class, Patricia Dunmire and Linnie Lou Steiner.

Yes, we look back on our college experiences with pleasure and sorrow for that which is past, and with a slight uncertainty, we look to the future and the hope and promise it has to offer.

The Homecoming dance, in co-operation with the Freshman class, is the highlight of our Sophomore activities. Representing our class in the Homecoming Parade were Miss Diane McElrath and Miss Cathy Caylor, attendants to the Homecoming Queen. Jeannie Heinick participated as Queen of Phi Sigma Epsilon National Fraternity.

We are also proud to say that Jeannie Heinick, Janie Schall, and Charlene Benninghoff are three of the varsity cheerleaders for C.S.C. With this, we want to mention that six Sophomore girls, Dixie Lee Seabright, Barbara Thompson, Dale Stitt, Linda Baker, Cathy Caylor, and Connie Nicely are Majorettes in the college band. Dixie Lee Seabright and Barbara Thompson are the co-head majorettes.

This year the Sophomores have participated in many of the first semester's activities, and, because of this, we, as a class, can be proud. However, we hope that every individual will be encouraged to further his or her participation in the social functions of Clarion State College.

This year's Freshman Class is proud to be the largest class in the history of Clarion State College. We hope to maintain the friendly atmosphere which pervades on the Clarion Campus. The class plans to continue the traditions of Frosh Week and to build other traditions for future students.

Our first class activity was the Homecoming Dance with the co-operation of the Saphamare Class. Janet Reynolds and Kathy Tustin represented our class as attendants to the Homecoming Queen. Other activities tentatively planned were the Freshman Christmas Caroling, the Clarion Winter Olympics, Freshmen Talent Night, and the Beatnik Dance.

These good times and our educational experiences have been most rewarding. We are anticipating the pursuit of our goals and attainment of knowledge.

The planning, organization, and hard work that goes into the preparation of a college annual is never realized by the ordinary college student. Thanks to a capable, well-organized staff, the 1961 SEQUELLE is presented to you, the students of Clarion State College, as a record of your campus activities.

Finances were managed by Mr. James Shofestall and pictures were collected and organized by Judy Randall. As head of the typing staff, Shirley Pyle was assisted by Hazel Swanson, Carol Semmens, and Janet Hopkins. Under the supervision of Forrest McQuawn, the hard-working members of the layout staff were Dixie Lee Seabright, Lucille Tommasone, Judy Cain, and Barbara Keeney. Art work was contributed by Tom Murray and Mr. Charles Pearce.

We especially thank our advisors—Mr. Charles Pearce, Mr. William Karl, Mr. James Shofestall, and Dr. George Lewis—for their help with the preparation of the 1961 SEQUELLE.

Leadership Workshop

On September 9, 1965, eighty-four students of Clarion State College gathered in the chapel for the opening meeting of the third annual Leadership Workshop. Representing the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, this group was chosen to attend the workshop on the basis of merit, leadership ability, and recommendations by student and faculty groups.

Upon arrival at the conference, each workshop member was identified with one of several committees organized under the discussion topic "The Role of Student Government in the Preparation of Teachers." Chairman and presiding officer of this year's workshop was Jack King. Committee chairmen were Lee Shields, Frank Rocco, James Hunter, Dolores Carlson, Carole Boris, Robert Currie, Joseph Szymkowiak, Glenn Speedy, Nicholas Borrelli, and Hannah Evans.

Many of the ideas presented in the committee meetings were accepted by the Student Senate and are now in working effect.

Ideas for campus improvement and support of Freshmen Customs are typical of Leadership Workshop's contributions to the college. Each of its members accepts his position as a symbol of college loyalty in such a way as to command respect without developing an undue sense of importance.

Freshman Customs

Participation in Freshman Customs is as old as higher education and as much a part of early college life as the first registration, first examination, or first date.

Frosh Week on campus is designed not to humiliate or embarrass, but rather, to help the new student get into the swing of things—to adjust to college life, to make friends, to develop a sense of "belonging" and the responsibilities that go with group membership. The main purposes of regulations are to:

Preserve the friendly atmosphere which pervades on the Clarion campus.

Weld the Frosh into a spirited working unit.

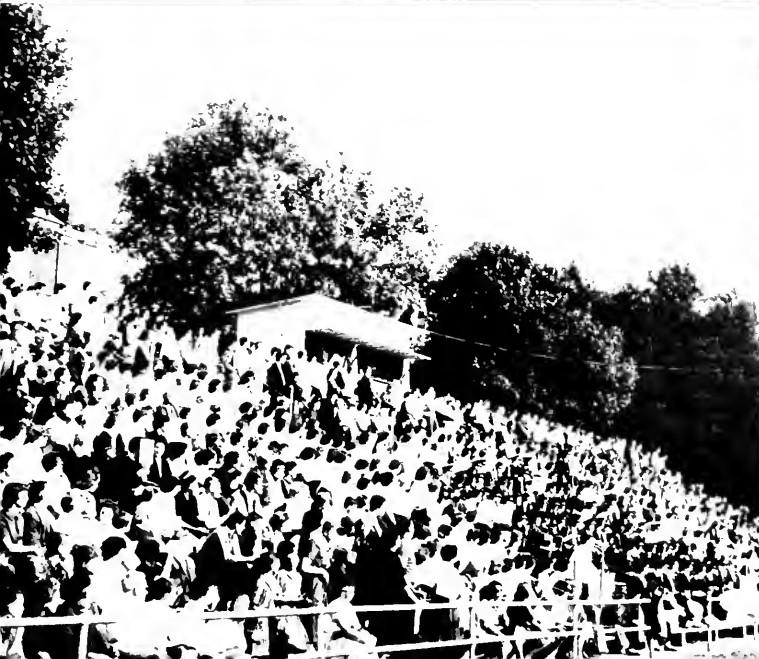

Help the Frosh become acquainted with his classmate, the college, and the upperclassmen.

The committee extends "thanks" to all those who helped in making Customs a success, especially Dr. James C. King, our advisor.

The Circle K Club is the most recent organization to be initiated to the roster of clubs on Clarion's campus. The Circle K was organized two years ago through close affiliation with the Kiwanis Club of Clarion, and there is no doubt of the club's distinguished position on the campus which it has earnestly earned during these two years.

The club meets every Monday. Though basically a service organization, the Circle K held many entertaining social events on campus. Entertainment included Winter Capades, Circle K Presents, and several dances.

The club not only emphasizes service and entertainment for the campus, but encourages personal development of each member by promoting high standards of scholarship, ethical conduct, and campus leadership. For two years now the Circle K has helped mold the lives of Clarion men.

These are Carole Boris, news editor; Dorothy Connor, features editor; Frances Raneri, sports editor; Nina Miller, Greeks editor; and Mary Ellen Hamrock, exchange editor.

The activity appropriation was raised this year to provide for the increased enrollment and exchange program. There was no definite number of issues to be published, although the staff sets six papers per semester as its goal. Dr. Lewis contributes the special photography. Sigma Delta Phi, a local sorority, celebrated its 30th year at Clarion, since its founding November 5, 1930. Being the oldest sorority on campus, we proudly wear the white blazer with blue piping and letters on the pocket. Our quadrangular pin we wear with pride; and its guard, the torch, reflects in us the warm bond of sisterhood.

The "Sig Dels" have had a variety of activities this year, starting with the Homecoming parade and alumnae tea. This year we had a special celebration for our 30th anniversary. Other activities were rushing, a Christmas party, and the giving of a basket to a needy family in Clarion. During the second semester we focused our attention on freshmen rushing and Greek Night. Other activities were a Mother's Day Tea and our annual Cook Forest weekend.

Alpha Gamma Phi, the oldest fraternity on campus, is founded on the ideals of fellowship, scholarship, and character. Founded March 3, 1930, the "Gammas" have continued their tradition of being one of the school's most active organizations.

The first semester brought our annual Homecoming gathering, successful as always, and enjoyed by both past and present members. The Spring Banquet, our annual rush party, and the pledge banquet highlighted the events of the year.

The men of Alpha Gamma Phi are well known on campus for their cheerfulness, friendliness, and participation in college activities.

It is our fondest hope that the pledges, both upperclassmen and freshmen, will maintain the resourcefulness and traditions of Alpha Gamma Phi.

The College Players is a student body organization devoted to directing, staging, and acting in theatrical productions. Through such activities members gain experience in dramatic work, and at the same time, take part in an absorbing creative experience. This year's presentations included "Charlie's Aunt" and "Macbeth." The club also cooperated with the community and together the College-Community Theater produced "Dream Girl" and "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Both organizations enjoyed a successful season under the direction of Mr. Bob H. Copeland.
